PRESS RELEASE

Date: January 11, 2025
Case Number:

Narrative: Essex Junction Public Works is currently working to identify a water main break in one of the neighborhoods off West Street, South Summit Street, and West Street. Residents in the area may experience water pressure issues or loss of water for periods of time while crews work to find the break. At this time, there is no timetable of when these issues will be resolved.

UPDATE**

The source of the water main break was located on the corner of West Street and Hiawatha Avenue. Crews will be working throughout the day to make necessary repairs and area residents should expect loss of water pressure or periods without water. At this time there it's uncertain as to when water will be restored.

UPDATE**

Essex Junction DPW crews have informed us that the water main break on the corner of West Street and Hiawatha Avenue has been fixed. All residents' water service should be back to normal operation. Anyone who may be experiencing any lingering water issues should contact us via the non-emergency line at 802-878-8331.
